

GOSSIPING

The dark art of gossiping is in true a way to under power another being of their own ability to understand the value of true communication with their own peers, as once the gossip is started only the reason of what have been said is predominant to all real facts. In a way by creating the energy current of transmitting once perception about any ones endeavors, one is only committing a transgression on the integrity on that person as in reality there is no right or wrong in any given situation, but what is understood by any given person. There is no way to escape the dagger of gossip if you are to believe what others will tell you. Once your attention is hook you are but a puppet in the chain of energy bleeding for the vampires of darkness. Is not as one can avoid hearing others perception, but as to how much of your attention are you willing to give to such matters. Is up to us not to trust others words in relation to another's deeds or history, as one is blinded by the curtain of limited perception of truth. When one is establish in the recognition that it is but a game of self sustaining egos to feed upon this practice then there is a route of escape for us.

The dark art of gossiping is indeed a practice created by dark souls and demons that have been wondering for millennia in our planet, planting the seeds of discord and fanning to try to create a free flowing avenue of energy upon wish they can feed to sustain the lies that inhabit their spectrum of limiting believes and desires. Nonetheless, is but a piece of the great puzzle of control as the dark art of gossiping is just the beginning to annihilate ones confidence in self control and personal power. Once you are a victim of gossip your life feels out of control in a spiral of feeling powerless and manipulated. The emotional wounds that are implemented in the victim and indeed black magic, as they are like bleeding wounds that can be use again and again to feed upon. It is sad that our society have found a way to share their power using this low level art of gossiping. The sad part is that indeed and ultimately the human as a whole are not the ones benefiting of this practice, even though it may seem a game of survival, but the dark entities and demons that are controlling the human psyche.

So, is up to us to become God luminous beings in the sense of being forewarn of all the actions and activities of this dark entities and demons and their plans. It is not how much we preach as to how often we fail. There is a false taste in the dark art of gossiping that is imprinted in ones mind that creates the illusion of feeling in control of life's outcome and even others reality. "At the beginning was the word and the word was with God"; says the bible. The word is a powerful magic and when use in gossiping can become the destroyer of worlds. It is up to us to begin to understand that the mechanism in which the energy is presented are so subtle that is in you already the trigger to participate in those dark rituals, as long you are not connected in some way with your own personal power and to God. The more imprints once have the less personal power one can realize. If we are to survive as a whole we need to break the chain of these social accepted rituals that indeed are so dark, yet accepted as part of our modern lore. Only by having faith that God's presence in all our activities and listening to all our words we can start to be aware on the moment when we are presented with the opportunity to participate in this dark ritual, and in God's name stop in the tracks the chain of energy vampirism and character assassination.

Many of us are not ready to take responsibility for ones actions and still have the deep need to participate in the character assassination of others. The false sense of power that is bestow trough this practice is enough to have many bounded to do it again and again. Only the pure hearted that have a connection to God can overcome such manner of survival and retrieve the ways of true communication in transparency from heart to heart between each other. This is not morality alone as once all imprints or tendencies are gone there are no moral values to follow. Yet, for us in the beginning are tools of self awareness than shows the ways of our life and dreams. Words are the ultimate source of wisdom or ignorance it just depends of who is using them. Be mindful next time the opportunity to feast in the dark ritual of gossiping is presented and you alone can avoid falling in the pitfall of darkness when your power becomes part of a river of blood to feed the vampires of the shadow world. When this moment arrived just say in your mind: "In God's name let there be light in this situation" and you will see the hand of God and his angels at work.

God bless you now and always!!
